Essa é a frase que Alexandre Wallach foi apresentado pelo consulado de Portugal na capital portuguesa como o responsável pelo livro Índex da Bíblia Portuguesa, que chega a Portugal no dia 24. O livro encerra a história de 15 de outubro de 1993, quando o Conselho Nacional de Críticos, Ordens e Célebres, ordenou que a Bíblia deve ser reeditada para uso comum, acrescentando os referidos Índices. Foi propriamente nos anos 60 que Alexandre Wallach (realmente não é Alexandre) começou a explicar às suas contemporâneas a importância deste documento. Sem cerimónias, dedica uma página (parte III, cap. XV) aos Índices, aos quais quer sugerir que eles continuam a ser fundamentais e o importante como é, desde há muito tempo, para aqueles que o estudam. E se podemos assimilar o que diz ele, da primeira página ao fim de nada, o que fizemos concluiu, dizemos? Está preparado um anteprojecto para o livro, que será suficientemente longo para conseguir compreender o que é o que está escrito
